(Requires 4 players with large pieces of paper (for drawing) and a drawing instrument)

Like Mariah Carey months before Christmas, I have awoken.

'Tis I, Noy2222 your gameshow writer and designer, with 6 new challenges for this year's Desert Bus.

To get things started, let's play Pictionary with thousands of people (this is very loosely based on the short lived 1963 CBS gameshow Picture This)

Separate yourselves into 4 players. In each round you will be presented with 4 prompts, things that are not very easy to draw, like "The Dankness", "Open Brain Surgery" or "Bag of air" (all prompts kindly provided by Discord before the run)

Each player in turn will pick one of the four prompts

(Note: Maybe have each contestant announce which one they pick, like "I pick #3" "I choose #2 etc)

Then all four players will have 2 minutes to draw their prompts after which they will present it to chat.

Chat will then have 2 minutes to guess all four prompts at

<https://gameshowsatdesertb.us>

Each correct guess will award the player 1 point.

For rounds 2-4 the player with the least amount of points gets to pick a prompt first, then the second lowest and third lowest.

The player with the most points after 4 rounds wins

Rounds and prompts (also shown in the slideshow. Reveal the category to the viewers but not the prompts, they're for the room only)
